

SPEAKER'S BIO

ROGER MOORE

COMMISSIONER
FEDERAL MEDIATION AND CONCILIATION SERVICE

Roger Moore is a Commissioner with the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service and services the Seattle, Washington area.

Mr. Moore has helped many parties reach satisfactory resolutions through Collective Bargaining Mediation and Grievance Mediation. He has trained a variety of different groups on subjects such as Labor Management Committees, Bargaining, and Grievance Handling.

Prior to joining FMCS, he was an Internal Organizer for the Service Employees International Union Healthcare Minnesota (SEIUHCMN) for over 10 years. At SEIUHCMN he negotiated contracts and established Labor-Management Committees with a wide variety of healthcare workers and employers in hospitals, clinics and long term care. He earned his B.A. in History and Political Science from Macalester College in St. Paul, Minnesota.

In his spare time, Mr. Moore spends his time with his wife Jessica and his two daughters, June and Lyla.